Pinky (VPHF001) is no longer part of the group, but since she wears the group's radio collar, she is kept on the mark sheet for beep checks.

The group was last visited twice in January 2025. Both times there were 8 visible individuals, and both times they emerged and sunned at a 15m distance from observers when sat down. With the lack of observers and irregular visits to the group, habituation work has not been successful. Observers will discontinue visiting the group in the coming months, but there could be opportunistic sightings.
